

DF Warranty

The warranty conditions of the flooring products you purchase are as important as the design, functionality and quality of the products. Failure to guarantee certain deformations that occur frequently, failure to compensate for errors and defects in production and short-term warranty periods may result in victimization for users.

DesignFloor products are not only aesthetic but also consumer friendly with warranty periods reaching up to 20 years. Our products, which have superior layers that prevent wearing, will also be part of your designs for many years with their easy maintenance feature. DesignFloor products, which are produced and certified at world standards in the field of building materials, have the best warranty conditions in the industry.
